Dedicated to the Interests of the City of Columbia and the People of the State of Kentucky.

RECEIPT OF PAYMENT. ONE YEAR. $10.00. SIX MONTHS. $5.00. STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 12.

The Kentucky House killed the bill abolishing the third-class teachers' certificate.

Caleb Powers and Jim Howard have been transferred from Frankfort to the Georgetown jail.

The jury in the case against the pool-room operators of Louisville returned a verdict of not guilty.

There is some little kicking over the redistricting but it was not expected that the Committee would please everybody.

Mr. Clarence E. Woods, a well-known newspaper man of Richmond is tipped for Senator J. B. McCrory's private secretary.

Yoshimibito, the crown Prince of Japan, will probably visit the United States at an early day. He is twenty-three years old and was married two years ago.

Tom Brown, the negro who assaulted Miss Emma Powell, a young girl who was attending the Institute at Nicholasville, was flogged by a mob last Wednesday. The girl identified the brute.

From the amount of dust being raised there must be something radically wrong going on at the Hopkinsville Asylum. The Legislature should give the master a thorough investigation.

James and Heater Turner, of Allen county, two brothers, fought a duel one day last week to settle an old grudge. James was shot to death and Heater mortally wounded with a hatchet. We venture the assertion that their parental training was bad.

Speaker Henderson seems to be determined that Cuba shall not be granted reciprocity. It is given out that he says he is prepared to suppress any amendment to the war revenue reduction bill. Another chaf from Teddy would probably bring him around.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis has submitted to the Mississippi Legislature a formal offer to sell "Beaumont," the home of the late President of the Confederacy, for $10,000, the place to be used as a home for indigent Confederates.

The surety of Stuart R. Young, the defaulter treasurer of Louisville, paid the city, last week, $42,304.55, the full amount of the shortage. Col. Bennett H. Young, father of the dead treasurer, gave his check for $362.17, the bond company claiming it was not liable for that sum.

Kinckin Moss, who claimed to be a good Democrat as any body, and who supported John Young Brown for Governor, has been given Hon. John S. B. Rhea in Congress. He will now show his steadfastness to the Democratic party by voting with the Republicans on every proposition.

Last week Mr. W. D. Jones, the proprietor of the Columbia Spectator, formed a partnership with Mr. Carl Strange and the business of the office will be conducted over the firm name of Jones & Strange. Judge T. A. Murrell will remain with the paper for the present as its editor. Mr. Strange is a practical printer and has heretofore had experience in the office of the Spectator, and is well known to quite a number of the citizens of Adair County. He is capable of improving the appearance of the paper, as the inside of last week's issue indicated.

A bill will be introduced in the Legislature in the next few days, probably Friday, amending the State parole law so as to exclude persons convicted of a number of crimes from the provisions of the law. The bill will bear the endorsement of the State Prison Commissioners, who are ex officio members of the Parole Board. The present law names only two offenses, rape and incest, for which no parole shall be granted. The proposed bill will add to the list of crimes for which no parole shall be granted a number of other crimes, one of which is arson. It will also provide that persons sentenced to terms of two years and less shall not be allowed paroles. The commissioners say they are burdened with applications for short terms, and that these cases should go directly before the Cincinnati Southern, and also build an extension into Nashville.

Mr. Zimmerman has been interested in the Chesapeake and Nashville for about 15 years. The road was originally designed to be built from Nashville to a connection with the Kentucky Central road when that property was owned by the late C. P. Hastings, before he sold it to the Louisville and Nashville Company.

Of those originally interested in the building of the road, besides Mr. Zimmerman but four are still alive. These four stockholders will sell their holdings to Mr. Zimmerman and the parties who are interested in him in the deal and for the purpose of closing the deal Mr. Zimmerman has been to New York.

The Chesapeake and Nashville at present extends from Gallatin, Tenn., to Scottsville, Ky., a distance of 86 miles, and was opened for traffic in 1887. The line is graded about six miles beyond Scottsville.

It is the intention of Mr. Zimmerman and his associates to extend the line from Scottsville to the present northern terminus, to a connection with the Cincinnati Southern at either Junction City or McKinney. This will necessitate the building of 120 miles of road. Two surveys have been made, but it has not as yet been definitely decided which will be used.

Work on the extension will commence next spring, and the line will be pushed to completion. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

In rearranging the Judicial districts of the State five new ones have been created, making two in Louisville and thirty-eight in all. Green, Taylor, Marion, Taylor and Adair. In the Legislative redistricting Adair is cut loose from Cumberland, her population giving her a Representative. The Eleventh Congressional district is left to her fate with Adair.

Asa drugged to salvation. It is reported that Adair will go into the Fourth and Casey into the Eighth. The news appears too good but if it should prove true all honor to the Committee.

By a strict party vote the Committee on Elections voted last Wednesday that Hon. John S. Rhea, the Representative from the Third Kentucky district, was not entitled to his seat, and that McKenzie Moss had been duly elected. Both Moss and Rhea will draw $2,000 each to cover the expenses of the contest. Who says Republicans won't take everything within their reach, right or wrong fair or foul.

The Cuban Planters' Association has sent an open letter to Congress asking a 50 per cent reduction in the tariff on Cuban sugar, and emphasizing that by this means alone can disaster to the island be averted. The New York Chamber of Commerce also has adopted a memorial to Congress asking concessions to Cuba. The House leaders are determined, however, to grant no favors.

Prince Henry, of Germany, in his rounds will visit Kentucky, but will be in the State a few hours only. He is a typical German, and when he returns to his Fatherland he will be able to tell his people that the United States are rough enough and big enough to whip the world.

The Committee on Revision of the Creed of the Presbyterian Church is said to have determined on a report that "infant damnation will be stricken from the church doctrine." This clause has gone unchanged for over 100 years. It is reported that the new creed will read "all infants shall be saved."

Elsewhere we state that Adair county will go into the Third Congressional district, but later information places her in the Fourth. It is also more than likely that Adair and Casey will form one legislative district.

Another Railroad.

Cincinatti will in the near future have another railroad between here and Nashville. At present the Louisville and Nashville Board is the only road reaching Nashville from this city. In fact, the Louisville and Nashville Road and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, which latter road is controlled by the Louisville and Nashville Company, are the only two railroads that at present enter the city of Nashville.

Eugen Zimmerman, Vice President of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Company, who has just returned from New York, it was learned yesterday, has about completed a deal by which he and associates will secure the Chesapeake and Nashville road and extend it to a connection with the Cincinnati Southern, and also build an extension into Nashville.

Mr. Zimmerman has been interested in the Chesapeake and Nashville for about 15 years. Jo Jones, Sam's brother, is holding revival services in Northern Missouri. In a recent sermon he said: "I have been asked why I do not open the doors of the church every night. I never said a pig unit I will get the water hot." In the same discourse he said: "I was born poor as dirt, and had a relapse when I was twenty-one years old." Also, in advising the husbands, he said: "Tell the old woman she is pretty and sweet—it may be a lie, but let 'er go away. You'll see her get up on her hind feet and rare around like a cat having a fit." He roared the women for not treating their husbands better. "Dress up and look neat around the house," he said. "Here you're sloshin' around the house with a Mather Hubbard on, and one son stuck down; home dirty and shabby, and the tablecloth looks like a map of the Philippine Islands. You go to meetin', and say you've got the perfect love, and the old man's got no buttons on his clothes." Jo should have left the piping of his brother, Sam, to the other little preachers who took it up several years ago. Such expressions from the pulpit disgrace civilization, and are not used by polished gentlemen.

A fire at Paterson, N. J., Sunday night destroyed $10,000,000 worth of property. The St. Louis hotel burned to death eleven persons.

Up to last Friday 572 hills had been introduced in the Kentucky Legislature. One among the names to appropriate $100,000 for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Saved Her Child's Life.

"In three weeks our chubby little boy was changed by pneumonia almost to a skeleton," writes Mrs. W. Wallace of Pleasant City, O. "Then, in spite of a good doctor's treatment for several weeks, grew worse every day. We then used Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and our darling was soon made well. We are sure this grand medicine saved his life." Millions know it's the only sure cure for coughs, colds and lung diseases. T. E. Pauli, of Columbia, and W. H. Wilkinson, of Library, guarantee satisfaction, see, Pauli & Wilkinson's Trial Bottles free.

And now a nice sum has been discovered in Clinton county. There is so much hidden wealth being unearthed at this day and time, it might be made profitable to further investigate the diamond field located near Mounteller, this country.

The couple are now visiting in Glendale, but will arrive in Columbia this week and for the present will board with Mr. J. A. Young. Numerous friends of the couple are ready to extend their congratulations.

Approaching Marriage.

Invitations are sent for marriage of Mr. Thomas Sm. Jr., of Louisville, to Miss Valerie McFarland, who resides in the suburbs of Columbia.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. W. C. McFarland, one of Adair county's best citizens. She is a young lady, and a general favorite with her numerous friends.

In advance of the ceremony every body in the community extends its best wishes to the popular and deserving couple.

In the early spring Mr. N. M. Tutu and John N. Conover will put on the market 250 acres of land, situated in the center of our town, to be used in the building of a school and other conveniences not found in the country, no trouble will be in the way to secure a desirable location. The above mentioned property lies on the beautiful plateau between the hills, the location one of the most desirable in the entire town, away from the noise of the business section and on an elevation that commands the view in every direction. They will lots to suit all requirements and the buildings at a reasonable price.

We predict that many neat cottages will soon adorn College Hill, heretofore the happy home of ticks and chiggers. Columbia is growing—expanding, out of the old era.

Mr. Salter Arnold, who is 70 years old, and who made his home with his son-in-law, Mr. H. F. Thomas, at Abner, this county, died last Sunday after a long illness. During her sickness the generally people in the neighborhood were especially kind, and of course she was greatly gratified by relatives of the deceased return their heartfelt thanks. The deceased was a consistent member of the Christian church and had been for forty-four years Eld Z. T. Williams officiated at the funeral.

The Amundville correspondent to the Amundville Herald has the following complimentary notice of one of our townspeople: "Mr. H. F. Thomas, who was in this place a few years ago buying cattle and paying good prices for same. Mr. Hudson is not a steady trader and always pays good prices for every thing that he buys; whether he makes anything or not, however, he is bound to have any kind of stock to sell; always has a good deal in the community and he can usually find many friends as any other man that ever comes in it."

"The man of to-day," said a revivalist at Wellington, Kan., spends six nights a week in lide rooms riding the goat of consumption and debauchery, to beat the kids." This preacher could have added that when the "goat rider" falls ill the benefits he receives from the lodges, in many cases, shuts the wolf from the door and stops the "bleating of the kids."

The following invitation has been received at this office: "The Citizens of Cincinnati cordially invite you to the Formal Opening of the Cincinnati Building at the South Carolina International Exposition, in Charleston, S. C., February 15, 1902, and to make their building your headquarters when in Charleston at any time during the Exposition." The invitation is handsomely engraved and is indeed a thing of beauty.

Our old friend, John B. Reynolds, who married Miss Millie Baker, a native of Columbia, and a popular young lady, has recently moved to this place. He has opened a store at home in Danville. The last time we met Mr. Reynolds and his interesting family he was enjoying country life on a splendid well-improved farm located on the waters of Bull Run, Fauquier county. Six or seven years have passed since we last saw him. John B. Reynolds had changed but little, and her clear, ringing voice could be heard over the farm. She is now in middle life, but we are willing to wager one's subscription to the News that she has not lost her speech.

Wilson Bros. Biscuit, bought from Mr. B. G. Barnes last Monday a fine saddle horse. They also bought one from Mr. Richard Dohoney for the same price. N. H. W. Aaron bought two sorrel horses, one from Jessie White, the other from J. G. Close for $80 each.

W. W. Jeffries, a merchant of this place, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. W. Pappock, of Tippecanoe City, Ohio, asking him to call a meeting of representative citizens of Adair county to get up the resolution to have the county seat removed to him at once. The object is to take into consideration the advisability of building an electric line from Columbia to Campbellsville. The writer also wants to know if ties could be furnished him at a reasonable price. It is claimed on vehicles, wagons, etc., between the two points, the amount charged as fare on the back, and if the right of way would be given an electric company. Quite a number of citizens in this place, Clark's office, Frankfort, etc., are in favor of the plan. Mr. Pappock writes very cordially, and many of our citizens think there is a good outlook for the line. Such a line would certainly pay off in due course and we hope tangible steps will be taken.

We received an obituary from Burksville concerning Mr. W. C. McFarland, one of Adair county's best citizens. The obituary is as follows:

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. W. C. McFarland, one of Adair county's best citizens. She is a young lady, and a general favorite with her numerous friends.

In advance of the ceremony every body in the community extends its best wishes to the popular and deserving couple.

Mr. Salter Arnold, who is 70 years old, and who made his home with his son-in-law, Mr. H. F. Thomas, at Abner, this county, died last Sunday after a long illness. During her sickness the generally people in the neighborhood were especially kind, and of course she was greatly gratified by relatives of the deceased return their heartfelt thanks. The deceased was a consistent member of the Christian church and had been for forty-four years Eld Z. T. Williams officiated at the funeral.

After religious services conducted by Rev. Z. T. Williams, the body was turned over to the Masonic Fraternity, and the remains laid to rest in the city cemetery after the usual formalities.

To the bereaved ones this community tender its profoundest sympathy.

A. G. Tond, Com. J. E. Murrell, J. Com.

There must be an organized band of robbers in this section of the State. In the last year there have been four or five stores robbed in Adair, Bassell and Taylor counties, and two or three of these have been broken into and the goods taken.

Last Thursday night at Joppa, a post-office six miles from Columbia, the store of Epperson & Willis was entered and several hundred dollars worth of goods taken away. The supposition is that the men who did this were a gang of midnight robbers hunting for a quick profit. They were captured some hours later, but though very thoroughly searched, not a very serious character. Considering his great age and feeble condition, it is really remarkable that he did not happen to a dangerous accident. At this writing he is a little better, however.

Mr. W. N. Robinson Dead.

The subject of this sketch is the oldest citizen of this place, being a resident of Columbia for many years. He was born in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, about eighty-one years ago, and soon after reaching manhood located at a place in the mountains, he was to fairly good circumstances. He reared a large family of children, seven yet living. His wife preceded him to the grave about eight years ago.

The surviving members of the family are Mrs. Louisa, their place, Mrs. Alice Giddens, who resides in the West, Mrs. W. J. Calison, Middlebury, Mr. W. O. Robinson, New Orleans, and Mr. A. W. Robinson, Adair county, and the late Mr. W. N. Robinson, who was the only child present when death came.

He was buried at the cemetery of the Masonic Fraternity.

in a few hours beat him out of his seat. J. P. Morgan well understands fleecing the public in this country, where all a man has to do is to have a robbery declared legal and he has right of way the country over. However, Brother J. P. has been across the pond, and if reports are true, has met a shark that has out-gunned him and he is in the soup to the tune of $175,000. Well, that's not much for J. P., as he will not count the cost. Of course J. P. will proceed to make the best of the situation, and it is not unlikely he will call for a court of inquiry and have his purchase declared the "real thing."

A dispatch from London to the Press says:

J. Pierpont Morgan's painting, "The Holy Family," attributed to Titian, for which he gave $175,000, is now being exhibited in the Royal Academy show of old masters, and is flatly declared by all the leading art connoisseurs to be an egregious forgery.

Clad Phillips, the art critic of the Daily Telegraph, says:

"Reputable as it is in its emptiness and in every respect, just such a thing as should be carefully excluded from the exhibition, there is no sixteenth century Venetian even of inferior rank to whom it could be safely given."

Mr. Morgan is aware of the doubts concerning the genuineness of the picture and is having an animated correspondence with a Parisian dealer on whose word he purchased it.

Few young men in the State have attained the political prominence of J. Willard Mitchell, of Jessamine county, who is an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General of Kentucky. Since he attained his majority he has taken an active interest in politics, attending nearly all the conventions of his party, and has ever been foremost in the political affairs of his county. Mr. Mitchell was nominated and elected county attorney of Jessamine county in 1898, and in 1901 was again chosen for the same office with an opposition from the Democrats or Republicans. As a Democrat he has always been found at his post of duty, advocating what he thought was the best interests of his party and the people in general. In 1899 and 1900 his services were constantly in demand by the State Democratic Campaign Committee and he never once failed to respond to party's call.—Danville News.

Local Option in Kentucky.

There is going to be a hard fight over the Falls City option bill, which is practically the Roberts local option bill of last session. It makes the county the unit in deciding the question of local option, so that if a majority of the voters in a county vote "dry" there can be no liquor sold in any part of that county. Under the present law one district in the county might vote "dry" while another might vote "wet." Counties having large towns or cities, under the proposed local option law, would almost invariably vote "wet," it would almost always be voted "wet" while the counties containing smaller towns it is said the opposite result would be reached. At any rate, the county unit rule makes it difficult to implement between the Prohibitionists and those who favor the sale of liquor. A poll of the two houses by interested persons seems to have resulted in the discovery that the friends of local option have a majority of about 100 in the Senate, and about 150 in the House, as matters stand now. Therefore, it is believed that the fight this year will be equally as exciting as it was when the Roberts bill was before the Legislature.

Nissie L. Nathan, of Larue county, was engaged to marry Joe Tukey, of Jackson county, but died in the ceremony being performed at home. On account of the wedding ceremony was delayed. At last she submitted the question to a friend who desired they could start and walk, each in their own circles, and that where they met the ceremony should be performed. They met at Livingston, Ky., and Rev. T. D. Mullins married them.

But little work was done in the State Legislature last week. There were joint committees, who inspected the State institutions between the champion and the sherry, and there was an adjournment because Admiral Schley was in Louisville, and some of the members wanted to see him, and again Thursday was the second anniversary of the assassination of Governor Gobell.

an opportunity for a test of strength between himself and the high-protectionists clique in the Free Soil with Congress that the people of this country will not allow themselves to believe that the President's courage and sense of justice will fail him at such a time.

On the issue of a tariff reduction on Cuban products sufficient to save Cuba from agricultural and commercial ruin, the protectors in Congress are now bold, doing the President's and public sentiment alike. Their game is to compel Cuba to choose between starvation and annexation. They are playing the game to a rubber finish.

The high-tariff Republicans of the House Ways and Means Committee, in refusing to bring in a bill for the relief of Cuba, have apparently strained the patience of the American people beyond the point of endurance. The conviction has become fixed in the public mind that these Representatives are resolved upon accomplishing the annexation of Cuba by the foulst of means, the breaking of our own solemn pledge to a weaker people. The American people will not忍耐 the policy. They turn to their Presidents in such a crisis. They are besieging Mr. Roosevelt in behalf of Cuba and of our national honor. They entreat him that Cuba shall be honorably dealt with.

And the President can make certain the fulfillment of our national promise to Cuba if he is so minded. He can throw down the gauntlet to the high tariff Republicans in the Fifty-seventh Congress, demanding a 50-percent tariff reduction on Cuban products. An almost unanimous American sentiment will support the President in such a stand. The high tariff plotters against a helpless little people and the good name of the United States Government will not dare to consummate their conspiracy if President Roosevelt thus defies them and the American people as the President to this. The President's known convictions urge him as well to such a course. The only question now is that of the President's courage. And if his courage fails Mr. Roosevelt in such a crisis, the American people have made no mistake in estimating of his character that the consequent re-adjustment will amount almost to a tragedy.—St. Louis Republic.

A Washington dispatch says that Senator Debs felt good over the retention of Barnett as Surveyor of the Port of Louisville and showed thanks on the President. It didn't take much to make Mr. Debs feel good. The credit for the victory in this case belongs to Commissioner Yerkes. It may be that Mr. Debs's happy frame of mind was due to the fact that his old and highly esteemed friend W. O. Bradley was knocked silly in the little encounter that led up to the reappointment of the Louisville men.—George Town Times.

Without stopping to think, but few people could name the holidays already on the calendar. As if that were not enough, a member of the Legislature proposes to add another. He wants the birth-day of Gen. Robert E. Lee made a State holiday, and has introduced a bill accordingly.—George Town Times. Admitted that there are enough holidays, would it not be a nice idea to set apart a day in honor of the dead chieftain.

The bill, to prevent ex-President Grant's rate of $25,000 per year will open a new avenue to special pension agents. We may all yet live to see the day when we will receive circulars from the grafters, assuring us that we are in all probability ex-presidents and only need to file claims to get the cash.

In three weeks our chubby little boy was changed by pneumonia almost to skeleton," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, O.
